Dr Mark Parrish

Physician Executive

Health Solutions Group Asia Pacific, Microsoft Ltd

---

Dr Mark Parrish is Microsoft's Physician Executive for the Asia Pacific Region. He works with public and private health organisations to help them improve their clinical and business outcomes by applying innovative solutions.

His background includes healthcare consulting with IBM Global Business Services; CEO of North Shore Private hospital, a large private hospital collocated with a tertiary public teaching hospital; and General Manager of Hornsby hospital, a 260 bed major metropolitan hospital in Northern Sydney.

This gives him an extensive understanding of the issues affecting healthcare and the ways that health outcomes, whether they be clinical or business, can be improved to maximize the potential of patient care and run the business of healthcare.
